

SOC2830 Mid-term Exam Study Guide

1. Know the criteria for creating a good survey question.
2. Know the criteria for creating a good questionnaire.
3. Know the steps for creating a codebook.
4. Know the parts of an SPSS command file.
5. Know how to convert raw data from a file into a frequency table.
6. Know how to report frequency table findings.
7. Know how to convert raw data from a file into a cross-tabulation.
8. Know how to report cross-tabulation findings.
9. Know the levels of measurement.
10. Know measures of central tendency, dispersion, and association; and how to apply them.
11. Know how to use the formulas to calculate measures of central tendency, dispersion, and Chi-square.